POOL MARKETING O. K'D BY SENATE BODY

Sapiro Asks 9-Months Farm- ers' Credit At Commit- tee Hearing.

Washington, Dec. 13.—Opening of the Federal Reserve system to farmers by extending the three limits of its loans was urged by Aaron Sapiro, general counsel for co-operative marketing associations of producers of cotton, tobacco, rice and other commodities, before the Senate Banking Committee today. He recommended for farm credits an adaptation of the Federal Reserve system to permit loans to farmers extending over their production or turnover periods.

"We are against any new system of agricultural banks," said Mr. Sapiro. "We desire to make the present Federal Reserve system available to farmers, to tap the normal supplies of credit and make the Federal Reserve funds available to farmers and co-operative associations that will put them on the same basis of credit with other industries."

The Lenroot-Anderson bill was approved in the main by Mr. Sapiro, and he said that through State laws co-operative credit associations of farmers also should be authorized.

The Banking Committee session developed into a study of co-operative marketing, a movement which seemed to receive the hearty approval of committee members.

Glenn Approves Giving Credit.

Senator Glenn, Democrat, Virginia, author of the Federal Reserve Act, expressed approval of the theory of providing agriculture, as an industry, the necessary credit of the Federal Reserve system which other basic industries are accorded. He pointed out that the present system provides for six months agricultural credit as compared with three months for general commerce.

Mr. Sapiro said the six months term ought to be extended to nine months. He criticized the United States Grain Growers, Inc., declaring it had made an improper attempt at co-operative marketing.

Tells of Farmers' Plight.

Sent to Washington by contributions of 50 cents to $1 from farmers and small-town business men of Central North Dakota, John Fry, a German farmer of Turtle Lake, N. D., detailed to the Senate Agriculture Committee the plight of farmers of his section.

Fry told how he had given up his real estate business and gone to farming three years ago, only to come to the conclusion that the average farmer in North Dakota has little hope of making a living.

"We are going to give up our farms unless we can get some help," he said. "From 50 to 75 per cent of us are up against it. None of our boys are going to stay on the farms next year. They say it is hopeless."

Taxes Unpaid for Three Years.

The witness cited instances of taxes unpaid for three years on farms in his section and told of low prices received during the past year for farm products—less than a dollar a bushel for wheat, 18 cents for butter and 7½ cents a pound for chickens. He told of the heavy mortgages burdening most of the farms and added:

"About the only thing we have left unencumbered are energy and our wives and children."

"What we need is some assurance for two or three years. The Government can give us that by fixing prices for our products which will enable us merely to pay our debts and start even again."

Chairman Norris announced at the conclusion of the hearing that he hoped to conclude tomorrow the taking of testimony on the Norris bill to create a Government-capitalized corporation to buy and sell farm products. He indicated that he would seek immediate committee action on the measure.

BASKET BALL, TWO PLY BILL TONIGHT

The local Girls and Boys High School teams, will stage a double header tonight, on the local court, having for their opponents the teams representing the Utica High School. The boys have played one game this season, winning by 30 to 17, while this will be the first contest staged by our girls. Utica had good, clean, sportsmanlike teams last season and the two-ply bill ought to bring out a rousing big crowd this evening at 7:15, to give the girls a good send off. Each of the local teams did fine work last season and there are three or four upon the teams this season who were regulars last year.

MACAHEES ELECT REGULAR OFFICERS

The Hartford Tent, No. 99 Knights of the Macahees, held a largely attended session Thursday night of last week at which the following officers were elected for the ensuing term:

E. H. Foster, Commander; Geo. D. Williams, Lieut. Com.; James H. Williams, R. K.; A. K. Anderson, Chaplain; W. H. Gillespie, Sgt.; Sidney A. Williams, Picket; J. Barbour Williams, F. M. of G.; Buck Taylor, S. M. of G.; J. F. Gillespie, Secy. Drs. A. B. Riley and E. H. Pendleton were elected Physicians.

Prior to the convening of the Lodge a luncheon, consisting of chicken, dumplings and essential trimmings was served the members in the banquet hall.

"TIGER" TO RETURN AGAIN AS "GHOST"

Clemenceau Cleared As Ship Slides From Pier on Voyage For Home

New York, Dec. 13.—His speaking mission ended, Georges Clemenceau, wartime Premier of France, sailed for home on the steamship Paris today declaring he would return again, "but only as a ghost."

The aged statesman who closed his strenuous tour with a short speech before the American Committee for Devastated France last night, appeared in fine health and rare good humor as he took his place on the upper deck to watch New York vanish behind him.

Just before the Paris cast off, the Tiger kissed Mrs. Charles Dana Gibson on both cheeks, laughingly enjoining her not to "dare to tell her husband." Mr. and Mrs. Gibson were Clemenceau's hosts during his stay here last month.

Others at the pier to see him off included Jules J. Jusserand, the French Ambassador to America, and Mrs. Jusserand; Gaston Liebert, the French consul here; Col. E. M. House, who arranged the "Tiger's" American speaking tour, and Bernard M. Baruch.

Clemenceau was cheered by crowds both on the pier and on the ship, as the Paris slid out from her pier with her hand playing the Star Spangled Banner. Standing on the deck, he waved his old gray hat in response.

The Tiger's farewell message to America was given out in the form of two telegrams—one to Woodrow Wilson and one to Otto Kahn, banker, in answer to farewell messages, which it was said were typical of thousands received at the last minute.

MAY NOT ISSUE ON DECEMBER THE 20TH

As matters now stand we may not issue the Republican on date, December 20th. In so far as we are aware, if the issue of Christmas week be omitted, it will be something new for the Republican, yet many papers throughout the country have no issue during the holiday week.

Our press date being Thursday evenings, it is almost necessary that we work on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday previous. We can manage to lay off Fridays and Saturdays and get out a paper, but cannot very well miss working other days.

If you fail to receive the Republican as of Friday Dec. 29th, you may know that it is due to the fact that none was issued for that week.

PLEAS ARE MADE IN HERRIN TRIAL

State Avers Safe Conduct Agreement Violated By Rioters

Mr. M. Dec. 13.—The completion by the prosecution and defense of their statements to the jury and the introduction of the testimony of the first three witnesses for the state marked the opening today of the trial of five men charged with murder in connection with the Herrin mine killings.

At the counsel table sat Edward J. Brundage, attorney general; Otis M. Glenn, assistant attorney general; Ray Henson, George Carter and C. W. Middlekauff, while the defendants were represented by A. W. Kerr, chief counsel; Rufus Naby, G. B. White, R. T. Cook, W. P. Seeber, A. C. Lewis and George R. Stone.

Among the spectators who crowded the Williamson County Court-house were Frank Farrington, head of the Illinois Mine Workers, and Oral Garrison, secretary to John L. Lewis, president of the International Mine Workers, who took down the proceedings in full.

Beside Judge D. T. Hartwell sat the jury of twelve men in blue and khaki shirts, eleven of them farmers and one a union miner. Among the farmers are two former miners.

Murder Held Only Issue.

The crowd listened in silence as Mr. Duty repeated the history of the fatal Herrin riot and outlined the testimony upon which the state hopes to convict the five defendants.

Declaring that the only question before the jury was one of murder and that there was no issue in the case between capital and labor, Mr. Duty told of the effort to operate the mine of the Southern Illinois Coal Company with nonunion men and declared that these workers had been attacked by a mob of between 800 and 1,000 strike sympathizers.

Mr. Duty said that the state would prove that during the night preceding the killings, an agreement had been made whereby those in the mine were to lay down their arms and leave the mine and also "a man named Hunter, who was presumed to represent Gov. Len Small, made arrangements for the men to put up the white flag and leave under promise of safe conduct out of the county. The killing, he said, of the twenty nonunion miners followed.

Mr. Kerr, who is chief counsel of the Illinois Mine Workers, declared in his statement that the defense would show that the killing of the non-union men was the result of an "invasion by armed guards" and that "Williamson County rose in defense of its homes," adding that "by this act of self-defense it served notice on American gunmen and upon those who employ them that this was not a safe community to send hired murderers."

He declared the prosecuting authorities of Illinois were being influenced by "a private organization composed of men of great wealth, the Illinois Chamber of Commerce." "Actuated by a desire for vengeance," he continued, "eager to do anything that will help destroy organized labor, the Chamber of Commerce is the organization that is prosecuting this case."

Continuing, Mr. Kerr said: "We will show that the five defendants in this trial had nothing whatever to do with the killings and that they were in positions and places at the time which would have been impossible for them to have had anything to do with it."

Misses Lorene Westerfield and Sally Laura Williams, students in the Western Kentucky State Normal, Bowling Green, will arrive in Hartford next week-end, to spend the holidays with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Westerfield, city, and the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hooker Williams, near this city.

Miss Mary Marks, Principal of the Hartford High school, left yesterday for Frankfort, where she will attend a meeting of High School superintendents. She will return tomorrow.

FORDSVILLE MAN IS HELD IN JAIL

Easley Farmer Charged With For- gery; Second Attempt At Same Bank.

Easley Farmer, a white man perhaps 20 years of age, charged with forgery, was arrested yesterday morning and lodged in the county jail. The arrest was made by Chief of Police John Lyons. The warrant on which the young man was arrested was issued by Judge Watkins on the affidavit of Wilbur Bortoff and charges that he gave a check on December 7 for $50 on the Bank of Fordsville, securing the payment on same at the Owensboro Banking company, when he did not have the legal right to draw such a check.

Following his arrest, Farmer was sent to the county jail in default of $500 to await his examining trial this morning.

The police are of the opinion that Farmer is an unusually smooth chiseler, for when he was arrested at the bank, he was attempting to put thru a second forged check and he had been successful in passing two worthless checks in Fred Weir's store, one for $20 and the second for $10 and he had also put over a bad one for $22.75 at Wile Brothers.

Young Farmer is charged with having signed the name of J. W. Farmer to the checks that he gave here.

When told in the bank that he had committed one forgery and was attempting to put over a second one, Farmer telephoned a friend in Fordsville, who told H. B. Eagles, cashier of the bank, that he would make the check good and that Farmer should not be held. Mr. Eagles said that the only way in which the matter could be squared with the bank would be for the man at that end of the line to immediately make a deposit there to protect the check and when he failed to do that, Farmer was taken into custody.

Several months ago, the report was current locally that Farmer had been killed in the South where he had gone with a carnival company. It has since developed that this was a part of a ruse worked by the young man to secure money from his family. Only a short time before, he had written his people to send him money so that he could come home. His mother sent him $40 and he returned to Fordsville.—Owensboro Messenger.

Girls' BASKET BALL TEAM IS SELECTED

The Girls' High School Basket Ball team has been selected for the present season. Coach, Miss Nelson, had the job of her life in deciding on those to compose the team, as the perceptible difference between a very large number who reported for practice was so slight as to make decision a real problem. Those composing the team are as follows: Misses Geneva Howard, Annabel King, guards; Ruth Tichenor, Clara Kirk, Forwards; Lena Henry, C. Miss Howard was elected Captain.

Misses Anna Pearl Renfrow, Alvera Stevens, guards; Margaret Carter, C. Locket Ford and Mary Ike Mason Forwards, were selected as subs, and will compose the second team, provided they don't beat the first above named team too bad in practice, and conditioning. (Our advice, though not asked, is to watch that quintette of subs, they are dangerous.)

MISS DENT PHIPPS

Miss Emmetthis Dent Phipps, aged 75 years, 11 months and 24 days, passed away at her home adjacent to Hartford, December 10, at 5:25 a. m., after an illness of one month, of colitis and other complications. Miss Phipps was a daughter of the late Elijah and Sarah E. (Nichols) Phipps, a prominent and one of the oldest families of this section.

Funeral services were conducted from the home Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock, by Rev. T. T. Frazier. Burial of the remains was in Oakwood.

She is survived by one brother, Mr. John R. Phipps, of Hartford, and a number of other relatives more distant.

Miss Dent, as she was called by her friends, was an exceedingly kind and well disposed lady, well beliked by all who knew her, but unusually popular with the younger people who came in contact with her.

CARSON—BARNARD

Miss Viola Bodyne Carson and Mr. John Geoffrey Barnard surprised their many friends by going to Owensboro Saturday, December 9, where they were joined in marriage. Judge McFarland performing the marriage rites.

The bride is the daughter and only child of Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Carson, residing near Hartford, on the Hartford and Owensboro road. She is attractive and popular with her many friends and acquaintances. The bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Thad Barnard, of Route 2, Hartford. He is an industrious and popular young man.

The Republican extends congratulations and best wishes for the attainment of all things necessary to happy life for the young married couple.

WOMAN'S CLUB WITH MRS. JNO. B. WILSON

Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather a goodly number of the members of the Woman's Club attended an interesting session of the society, with Mrs. John B. Wilson, hostess, at her home on Union Street, Saturday afternoon. George Eliot, pseudonym of Mary Anne Evans, English novelist and poet, was the chief subject for study and discussion. Mrs. Walker gave a sketch of the life of the authoress. Mrs. T. L. Griffin, substituting for an absent member, gave a short review of Silas Marner. Other subjects were also interestingly discussed.

Light refreshments were served by the hostess.

The Club is to meet with Mrs. J. S. Glenn tomorrow afternoon.

KING—MIDKIFF

Miss Dee King of Dundee, and Mr. M. C. Midkiff, of near that place, were joined in wedlock Wednesday, December 6th. The wedding took place at the home of the bride in Dundee. The Rev. Wilcox performed the nuptial rites.

Each of the contracting parties are popular and have many friends who, with the Republican wish them well.

BUTLER COUNTY'S SONS IN CONGRESS

Boyhood Friends Receive Honors In Recent Elections.

(Louisville Herald)

Washington, Dec. 9. Butler County, Ky., will hold a unique position in the next Congress, for it was the boyhood home of three men who will sit in that body. As schoolboys, Senator John W. Harrelld, of Oklahoma, and Congressman-elect Maurice H. Thatcher of the Louisville District, lived within a hundred yards of each other, while Congressman-elect Everett B. Howard, of the First Oklahoma District, lived less than three miles away, at Morgantown, the county seat. Howard and Harrelld are cousins, and lived at each other's homes in childhood till they seemed like brothers. Thatcher was almost as intimate. And the three were inseparable.

The three Butler County Kentuckians, who are to meet for the first time in many years in the coming Congress, were almost inseparable in their younger days. Howard lived in the county seat and his cousin, John Harrelld, spent every winter as a member of the Howard family, so he could attend the schools of the village. When summer came Howard was sent to the country and remained as a member of the Harrelld family till the school bell called him back to town.

Always Together.

During their childhood days the trio played, hunted and fished together and often discussed their ambitions to enter public life when they grew up. But none of them achieved this ambition till he had left his boyhood home. Now all three are to meet in the halls of Congress.

While still a young man, Howard emigrated with his parents to Oklahoma, traveling in the old-time prairie schooner with an ox team drawing it. He grew up, became a prominent citizen in Oklahoma, served on the state board of affairs, was elected state auditor and then came to Congress. In the Republican landslide of 1920 he was beaten but this year he was again sent back to Congress from the Tulsa district of Oklahoma. He is a Democrat.

Thatcher left the old home place next, going to Louisville because it offered him better prospects than Morgantown. He studied and practiced law there, became clerk of the United States Circuit Court, United States attorney, presiding officer of the Panama Canal commission, and served also as a city councilman in Louisville. He was elected a member of Congress at the election of November 7. He is a Republican.

Harrelld Follows Cousin.

Harrelld left Butler County after his two playmates did. He also took up law, and became the county attorney of Butler County. Later he followed his cousin, and also went to Oklahoma. There he became an official of the Federal Court, was nominated as a Republican for Congress in a district usually overwhelmingly Democratic and carried it in 1918. This made him senatorial timber and in 1920 he was elected as the first Republican senator from Oklahoma. Harrelld and Howard met here in 1921. Harrelld as a senator and Howard as a member of the House. It has been many years since Harrelld, Howard and Thatcher, the three boyhood friends from Kentucky, have met but they are counting on an interesting recital of the event of many years when they assembled under the big white dome of the national capitol next spring as members of the United States Congress.

BUSINESS CHANGE

Mrs. J. D. Holbrook and Everett Himes, city, have purchased the City Restaurant of Joe Tate and assumed charge. This is the restaurant recently operated by Loney Minton and the oldest restaurant stand in Hartford.

SUICIDE BRIDGE IS TRAGIC SPOT

Many Leap To Death In Seine Off Pont Des Arts Where Napoleon Trud.

Paris, Dec. 9.—"Au secours, help, help," an "au secours!" One hears the cry often on a dark evening while crossing the old Pont des Arts. It is the famous "suicide bridge" which spans the Seine, built by Napoleon when he wished to wander from the Louvre palace to the institute on the other side.

No traffic is allowed on this bridge, only foot passengers, and this is perhaps one of the reasons why so many unhappy persons choose it for a jumping-off place. It is quiet and dark, with little to distract the thoughts. Then too, it is perhaps the most charming spot along the whole length of the river, facing the "Tie de la Cité," with the spires of Notre Dame and La Sainte Chapelle looking into the air. And if one must die it is just as well to choose a beautiful spot. It is a little fairyland in springtime, when the fine green leaves begin to come out and drop down to the water's edge. At night, when the lights pop out, the shadows form long red and green ribbons in the Seine.

According to statistics, more women than men give up their lives in the muddy river, and they are mostly young ones—girls deserted in love, jealous or forlorn ones. Very often they touch the water and then decide that life is good after all, and then comes the cry—"Au secours, au secours!" which rings across the water on a quiet evening. The life-savers hurry out—they are scattered at different spots along the banks—and often they arrive in time. Often they find nothing but a hat. And the old women rest their market baskets and pause for a moment on the bridge. "Ah, bien, well! If the poor creature did it for a man she was mighty foolish—men are not worth it these days!" "Mats out, but perhaps she is better off, mon Dieu! Is vie est dure!" And they pick up their market baskets and toddle on.

Should Be Quarantined

Many physicians believe that anyone who has a bad cold should be completely isolated to prevent other members of the family and associates from contracting the disease, as colds are about as catching as measles. One thing sure—the sooner one rid himself of a cold the less the danger and you will look a good while before you find a better medicine than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to aid you in curing a cold.

OLD RECORDS DISCLOSED

Otto Kiep, Ottendorf, Germany, in poring over ancient family archives found numerous references to treasures supposed to have been buried by a notorious pirate named Stortbecker. Kiep searched other records for further information and then after considerable arm-chair searching came to the conclusion that the hoard was buried at a point near Sennadt. Digging secretly at this point he actually uncovered a chestful of gold coins. He reburied his find until he could come to a satisfactory understanding with the owner of the land. From various bits of evidence at hand he is convinced that some pirate other than Stortbecker hid this treasure. He is therefore seeking now to discover the hiding-place of that buccaneer's hoard.

66-FOOT PHOTOGRAPH OF CHICAGO SAND DUNES

Chicago, Dec. 9.—A huge photograph, ninety-six feet long and ten feet wide, was completed recently by Dr. Frank M. Woodruff, curator of the Chicago Academy of Science in Lincoln Park.

The picture, believed to be the largest photograph ever made, is a panoramic view of the Lake Michigan beach from Gary, Ind., to the northwestern extremity of Chicago. It is tinted in natural colors and will be one of four photographs forming a background for the exhibit of birds, reptiles, trees and flowers common to the Chicago region.

Dr. Woodruff, who took the original plates, numbering several hundred, had to develop new methods and equipment to finish the gigantic prints. The negatives were a series, one overlapping the other, which were enlarged from 8-10 inches to 10-11 feet, large rolls of photographic paper being used in the process.

The development of the huge prints was impossible in the regular photographic traps. An assistant wearing rubber boots spread the developer on the exposed paper with a shop.

The photographs, which are scientifically more accurate than an oil painting of the same subject, would be Dr. Woodruff declared, cost less than $100. The tinting was done with transparent oil colors. The completed panorama shows the famous Indiana dunes, the sluggish Grand Calumet River and the swamps and swale stretching around the eastern and southern environs of Chicago.

The same scene painted in oils, Dr. Woodruff said, would cost not less than $1,000.

EX-PRESS DIES AS SCRUB-WOMAN

Barnesgate, Eng., Dec. 9.—Once the busiest in an embassy, accustomed to receive the homage of brilliant throngs in a foreign capital; in her last years reduced to earn her bread as a scrubwoman—these are the phases in the life of a mystery woman who has just died in this town.

"Mrs. Annie Smith," the name by which she chose to be known, came here about three years ago and lived alone in the tiny cottage where her body was found, half dressed, lying on the floor of her bedroom.

She was clearly a woman of refinement and high education. The incongruity of her attainments with her humble occupation aroused intense curiosity, but she refused all inquiries regarding her past life.

Once or twice, however, in speaking recently to neighbors, she let it slip that her husband had been a member of Parliament and at one time an ambassador.

To the end, however, she refused to disclose her real identity, and intensive police inquiries have failed to reveal it.

Do You Enjoy Your Meals?

If you do not enjoy your meals your digestion is faulty. Eat moderately, especially of meats, masticate your food thoroughly. Let five hours elapse between meals and take one of Chamberlain's Tablets immediately after supper and you will soon find your meals to be a real pleasure.

PRACTICAL POINTERS

Silver should be washed twice a week in strong soapy water, well dried and then polished with a chamade cloth. In this way it will not need frequent cleaning with powder.

Brass and copper can be cleaned with a cloth dampened with a mixture of lemon juice and salt.

Three tablespoonsful of castor oil mixed in a pint of bay rum makes a good hair tonic.

Ford-drivers often run out of lubricating oil in remote spots. In such an emergency fill the crankcase with water until oil flows out of the top petcock and in that way you will be able to get home anywhere within a radius of 50 miles.

A peanut candy greatly relished by children is made as follows: Put two cups of sugar and one half cup of cream in a skillet and stir until well mixed, boil until candy forms a soft ball in the water. Push skillet to back of stove and add one heaping teaspoonful of peanut butter and a little vanilla flavoring and beat until creamy. Pour candy into a buttered pan and let cool.

PLAN TEMPLE AT WASHINGTON

The General Grand Chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star appropriated $25,000 as the nucleus of a fund for the erection of a $1,500,000 temple at Washington to be used as an international headquarters. No plans were made to raise the remainder of the fund, but it is reported that the organization may levy an assessment of $1 on each of its 1,250,000 members.

LOSES HEAVILY IN GERMAN BANK

Saloon-Keeper Deposited $5,000 In Homeland, Now Equal To Only $17.

Defiance, O., Dec. 9.—His $5,000 savings have diminished to $17 because of the depreciation in Germany of money values, and Fred Grueber, formerly of this country, has returned, after spending fifteen years in the Fatherland. He is glad to get back to the United States, even though he has to begin all over again at the age of 62 years.

"I first landed in America in 1888, with $35," said Grueber. "Two weeks ago I landed again with $35. But the first $35 belonged to me, while the second is what I had left from $200 borrowed from relatives in this country to pay my transportation."

After operating a saloon in the village of Oklahoma, Henry County, for twelve years, Grueber went to Germany with more than $5,000 savings and placed the money in a bank, at interest. The money still is in the bank, but is practically worthless.

The $200 sent him to return home on, Grueber said, would have purchased 450,000 German marks. But that doesn't mean much, Grueber added, in a country where shoes cost 10,000 marks; butter 500 marks per pound, and a pound of coffee costs 800 or 900 marks.

"The German laborer is suffering because he receives only about ninety marks an hour," said Grueber. "Every village and town is printing paper money, and every time the press starts the value of the mark drops."

"The people have lost all religion, all political faith and are a disorganized mass, incapable of being governed by any party or political religion now. They have no use for the Kaiser and his crowd. They pay little heed to the existing Berlin government."

Tales of Germany's post-war prosperity and rapid industrial recovery are mythical, according to Grueber.

SAY MEXICANS LIVE LIKE SAVAGES AGAIN

San Francisco, Dec. 9.—Inhabitants of the Southern states in Mexico are refusing to pay rents to landlords; an ideal communist system is being practiced, which is spreading, because in that part of the world man's wants are few, fruit and other agricultural products growing wild, according to Lloyd Miller, mining engineer, just returned, after a thirteen-year residence there.

"The Mexicans in the states of Yucatan, Vera Cruz and Oaxaca have returned to the primal life, but for the fact that a few of them have guns they are in no whit different from unlettered savages."

"Fruit grows wild, and all one need do to secure a meal is reach for a banana or mango, and the pangs of hunger are satisfied," Miller said.

When they need clothing many of the people in the rural districts simply have their wives make grass leotards, which article or dress is fairly generally worn now. Taxes aren't paid, because the people haven't any money, and because the school teachers aren't paid there are no schools," Miller added.

Miller declared that Obregon was very friendly toward the American government and that, while there were frequent mass-meetings of Communists in the larger Southern Mexican cities, Americans were safer than they have ever been.

Appropriation for Treasury Passed

Washington, Dec. 9.—Far in advance of the usual time, the House today passed the Treasury appropriation bill, the first of the big supply measures. It carried $115,000,000 of which $9,000,000 will be for prohibition enforcement.

The measure was passed without a record vote and virtually without change, the only material departure from the committee recommendation being in the elimination of the appropriation for an under-secretary of the Treasury.

A provision of the bill authorizing the Bureau of Engraving to install power presses in order to reduce the number of plate printers resulted in

REFUSE KUKLUX DONATION

A committee representing the American Legion, the Society of Forty and the Boy Scouts announced that a donation of $15,000 from the Kuklux Klan for the benefit of the Boy Scouts of St. Louis, had been refused.

METHODISTS URGE DISARMAMENT

At the Baltimore conference the bishops of the Methodist church took a stand in favor of complete disarmament, recognition of the "spiritual values" of labor, more strict expression of opinion and less wholesale accumulation of wealth. They plan a social and an economic reform, not only in the United States but in the whole world, and expressed a desire to co-operate with any other religious or social body working for the same ends.

EDISON FLAYS COLLEGE MEN

Addressing the undergraduates of Princeton university, Thomas A. Edison declared that he disapproves of college men because they object to work, especially if the work is dirty. Most of his employees, he says, never went to college and those college graduates he does have show a lack of imagination and never make suggestions which might lead to improvements in their departments. He says we have enough lawyers, doctors and literary men and need more men with technical training. "The main quality for success, in my estimation," he says, "is ambition with the will to work."

CONDEMNES SEX LECTURES

Rev. John H. Creeden, president of Georgetown university, Washington, declares that there is no place in this country for the large group of women who seem to have a morbid desire to write and lecture on the subject of sex hygiene. The only persons fit to advise children on such subjects, says Rev. Creeden, are the parents and the family physician.

BRITISH FLAG IS FURLED IN ERIN

Irish Flag Up As Free State Takes Official Existence With Out Pomp.

London, Dec. 6.—An historic privy council held in Buckingham Palace this morning dealt chiefly with the establishment of Ireland as an independent commonwealth. King George signed a proclamation giving effect to the new Irish Free State and also a proclamation appointing Timothy E. Healy as the first Governor General of Ireland.

Dublin, Dec. 6.—Ireland took her place today among the world's Commonwealths. The Provisional Government and Parliament ceased to function, their place being taken by the permanent Parliament and Cabinet of the Irish Free State and the new Commonwealth being formally proclaimed as an established Government.

The provisional regime which ceased to exist today had such full powers that the new one inaugurated marks but little change except in name. The programme of the day provided that the Parliament meet at 5 o'clock without ceremony, and after its members had taken the oath, elected a Speaker and nominated a President of the order of the day called for the naming of the Executive Council by the President, with a committee of the Parliament nominating the other Ministers, the arrangements amounting simply to the confining in office of the men already there.

Splendid Cough Medicine.
"As I feel that every family should know what a splendid medicine Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is, I am only too pleased to relate my experience and only wish that I had known of its merits years ago," writes Mrs. May Fry, Ferguson Station, Mo. "I give it to my children when they show the slightest symptoms of being croupy, and when I have a cough or cold on the lungs a very few doses will relieve me, and by taking it for a few days I soon get rid of the cold."

FLORIDA RANCH DEMONSTRATES VALUE OF SUPERIOR Sires

By the use of selected bulls of superior quality, an extensive beef-entle ranch in central Florida has increased the weight of its calves by from 20 to 50 per cent over that of native calves of the same age. Starting five years ago, according to W. F. Ward, a former employee of the United States Department of Agriculture and now associated with the ranch, the owners have improved both type and quality. The breeding operations involve the use of more than 100 purebred bulls and a total of about 30,000 head of stock. In the absence of a sufficient number of purebred bulls, carefully selected crossbred and high grades are likewise used temporarily.

The ranch raises approximately 90 per cent of the bulls needed and the quality is improving from year to year. The breeds of cattle raised include Aberdeen-Angus, Shorthorn, Hereford, and Brahman. A small herd of purebred cows was recently acquired chiefly to raise purebred bulls, but the main operations consist in grading up the native stock by the use of superior sires and selling the product for beef.

Officials of the ranch in charge of breeding operations have reported their experience to the department as a contribution to the "Better Sires—Better Stock" movement. The quality of the calf crop this year is reported as noticeably better than for any year in the past.

Chamberlain's Tablets.

These tablets are intended especially for indigestion and constipation. They tone up the stomach and enable it to perform its functions naturally. They act gently on the liver and bowels, thereby restoring the stomach and bowels to a healthy condition. When you feel dull, stupid and constipated give them a trial. You are certain to be pleased with their effect.

DUBLIN PAUPERS RULE WORKHOUSE

Dublin, Dec. 9.—The Board of Management of the Wexford Workhouse is in a peculiar crouch. The paupers have gone on strike, because they don't get their breakfasts served in bed. The master of the workhouse informed the board that all the ne'er-do-wells, male and female, from all over Ireland are flocking into the institution. Their conduct is terrible; they refuse to obey the officials. They leave the house at any time of the day or night, they like, returning often-times the worse for liquor. They refuse to get up in the morning unless supplied with their breakfasts in bed. The officials had to make the beds, as the paupers refused to do so. The master said he had twenty men watching one of the inmates to stop him from stealing things from the institution, yet they were unable to detect him, though he took tables, chairs and bedding out and sold them in the town.

DARK POOL BUYS HOME.

Hopkinsville, Ky., Dec. 5.—The question of a suitable and adequate building in which to house the headquarters here of the Dark Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association was settled this afternoon when the building at Main and Eleventh streets was purchased from the Elk Brand Shirt and Overall Company. The deal has been pending for several days, but the last obstacles were not dissipated until this afternoon. It is reported the purchase price was $55,000.

"GREAT DIVIDE" TO REMAIN IN NEVADA

"Battle Cry of Freedom" Still Heard In Reno; Effort To Change Law Fails.

Reno, Nev., Dec. 9.—Now that official returns have definitely decided the failure of Bishop George C. Huntington's initiative measure to extend the time necessary for a Reno "liberty bond," members of the local divorce colony are busily engaged in writing letters broadcast to the four corners of the earth, telling the joyous news.

They are not depending upon the regular news channels to carry the glad tidings and many stamps have been licked and telegrams sent to carry the word that Nevada is still the "game preserve" of those who seek refuge from the slings and arrows of "outrageous" matrimony.

Local business men, who formed an association which vigorously opposed any change in the existing divorce law, report a revival of interest in their offerings from dainty boots to Paris hats and from diamond solitaires to jeweled vanity cases.

One of the developments immediately expected as a result of the defeat of the measure which would have scotched the death-knell of "quick divorce" in this state is the rebuilding of the famous Riverside Hotel, former headquarters for divorce "residents," which burned down eight months ago.

FAVORS LOW WAGE FOR UNSKILLED

Dr. H. A. Garfield, head of Williams college, Mass., made the startling statement that unskilled laborers should not be paid enough to support a family. He argues that neither society nor the unskilled worker himself has any need of children; that more than a bare living would rob such a worker of opportunity to better his condition; and that if he wishes to marry, his wife should have to aid him while he educates himself out of his unskilled rut.

FOUND WIFE'S JEWELS

After taking a dip at Bradley Beach, N. J., Robert Herman, Greenwood, Miss., shook his wife's bathing robe which he had worn from the dressing room to rid it of sand. Just then he noticed on the beach a chamomile bag which he found to contain a number of jewels. He turned the "find" over to the police and went home. When he casually mentioned the incident to his wife she fainted. They were jewels, valued at $8,000, which Herman had given her long before and forgotten. The forgetful husband went off hot-foot to the police who returned the trinkets to him after he had convinced them of the truth of his story.

MARKET REPORT SAVES MONEY FOR FARMERS

"We were glad to publish your bulletins that gave market conditions to farmers and saved the farmers from $50 to $100 per ton on their broom corn," the editor of an Oklahoma newspaper recently wrote the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The bulletins referred to were weekly reports of the quantities of broom corn in storage, and of general market conditions, issued by the department's representatives in the broom-corn territory. The reports indicated a shortage of stocks in northwestern Oklahoma and the farmers refused to sell at the low prices bid by speculators. The result was the sale of the crop at prices more in proportion with actual supply and demand conditions.

The Department of Agriculture now conducts a market news service on all leading agricultural commodities, including hay, grain, feed and seed, fruits and vegetables, live stock and meats, cotton, and dairy and poultry products. A corps of trained market reporters are located in the field and at large market centers to report conditions, and the information is immediately dispatched to farmers and the trade by mail, telegraph, the press and radio.

"Know your market" is the department's slogan. Farmers are urged in their own interests to get in touch with the department so that they may get the full benefit of the market news service.

$400 DIAMOND IN CHICKEN

Mrs. Michael Kelly, Gloucester City, Pa., found inside the gizzard of a chicken she was dressing a stone-set pin. She thought little of her find because it looked like a cheap imitation diamond. A jeweler who examined it however, declared the stone to be a diamond of fine quality and estimated its value at $400.

DUG UP $12,000 IN JEWELRY

Albert Bartels, Ontarioville, Ill., was digging for the foundation of a new barn when he unearthed a bag containing 97 diamond-set gold rings and a number of unmounted stones. The value of the lot is estimated at $12,000. There was nothing to indicate the ownership of the valuables. It is believed that they were buried there by thieves who intended to recover them later.

TOO MUCH WILL POWER

A man who was so unfortunate as to be terribly bow-legged had sought surgical advice everywhere, but to no avail. He was told that his case was hopeless. Then a good friend told him that he could straighten his legs himself if he would exercise his will power and keep faith in himself. He was advised to say the words, "My knees are coming together," 25 times every night for nine nights. But on the 10th night the poor man forgot and repeated the words, "My knees are coming together," 50 times. Lo and behold, when he awoke the following morning he was knock-kneed.

The bow-legged man put his will to the task and conscientiously carried out directions, repeating the sentence, "My knees are coming together," 25 times every night for nine nights. But on the 10th night the poor man forgot and repeated the words, "My knees are coming together," 50 times. Lo and behold, when he awoke the following morning he was knock-kneed.

TODAY..... DECEMBER 15

We are beginning to believe that for some reason or other the Courier-Journal don't like Harding very much. There's a lot of people who have been read ever since that "bar-nigger" tale was given the cold lie.

Another crisis threatened in Poland—this time it is because the recent election did not result as some of them wanted it to. If elections in America had that effect some of us would be full of crises all the time.

We just can't keep from wondering if "Tiger" Clemenceau started out to get the U. S. A. into the League of Nations before Christmas. If he did he might have gotten a point or two from one H. Ford who thought he was going to yank the boys out of the trenches, once upon a time. The honored Frenchman seems to be playing the roll of a modern helld-evil.

The brutal murder of two officers of the law by outlaw Moonshiners in Menifee County, is certain to lead to the ultimate downfall of the business in that immediate section, and it is to be hoped, sure punishment of the guilty parties by legitimate process. There can be no surer way by which a criminal, it matters not what of the category of crimes he commits, may be brought to just ends than by boldness and the hel-lousness of the act.

Citizens have filed a petition in County Court, asking for submission to the voters of the County, a proposition to issue $300,000 worth of 20 year road bonds, the proceeds thereof, as a matter of course, to be expended for road improvement and maintenance only. We presume that the election will be ordered, as it rarely ever happens that a question of this character fails of submission, when properly applied for, although it is not an absolute certainty. Personally, we have favored all reasonable propositions for the apparent interest of the citizens of the County, as a whole, as we had light to view them. We may have been, doubtless were, on occasions, many of them perhaps, in error of judgment. The recent Legislature made it rather hard for a lot of citizens to support measures for the raising of revenue to be expended on our highways, but the Court of Appeals is to pass upon the late act, and, as decided by a lower Court, the new law may be annulled. At any rate the election has not yet been ordered and pending the decision of the other matter, we are inclined to feel that we are somewhat in the woods at the present time. Yet we must say that we can't have good roads, roads worth the name, without additional funds and we can't have funds without approval of the voters in elections as prayed for, and carried—paying more taxes, which all of us must make-up our minds to get under with a good spirit. Rightly handled, the business of good road making is worth the price.

If we had as good a philosophical

Turkeys and heads of families ought to be glad that there's but one thanksgiving and Christmas in each

I. D. Claire is badly and very finely mistaken if he thinks we are even going to try to inveigle our wife into giving us 1/2 dozen eggs.
No! that's a waste of time. As to the latter part of Claire's squib: Of course we know you don't eat eggs, durn your slow-to-see-hide, thought maybe we'd drink 'em. Providen you

I. D. Claire is mourning over the passing of his old friends, Tom and dead ones, too.

We noticed an ad in last week's Republican "If you need money to pay debts etc. I can furnish it in amounts of $1,000 or more." We stopped there and looked at the bottom of the article to see where to go but when we connected with the man with the money to loan we had no smooth land in good state of cultivation with us to put up as security.

Hence we are still needing money to pay debts, and to keep from running further in.

Neither Doc Riley or Prof. Rhoads pulled a bran new story on us yesterday or the day before. Wonder if they are sick, or out of town?
Generally, we listen to their stories, thinking maybe we may pick up something to use, but as our readers are not provided with gas masks for protection against funky, highpowered odors we dump them in the garbage cans.

FARM DEPARTMENT.

Better feeding of hens so that they will lay more eggs in winter is getting attention from Morgan county farmers. County Agent R. B. Rankin says. Five of them recently made orders for tankage in order to supply their hens with animal protein, one of the things required in the ration before hens can lay the largest number of eggs.

Junior agricultural club work not only is helping to keep Harlan county farm boys and girls satisfied with their lot in the country but also is helping many of them swell their bank accounts. County Agent Robert T. Harrison, reports. During the past summer, one club member in the county made more than $115 from one-tenth of an acre of tomatoes and another made a total of $338.50 from her garden on one-fifth of an acre.

Crittenden county farmers are taking steps to replace scrub breeding animals of the county with purebreds, according to reports of County Agent John R. Spencer. In one week recently 45 of them joined the nation-wide Better Stock-Better Stock campaign by agreeing to use nothing but purebred sires in all their breeding work.

Grayson county banks are competing with County Agent R. W. Seearce and the extension division of the College of Agriculture at Lexington in helping farmers in that section of the state put their farm business on a basis where it will pay a profit year after year. The Bank of Caneyville and the Bank of Clarkson will each furnish County Agent Seearce with 50 farm account books that will be distributed to 100 farmers so that they can keep systematic record of their business the coming year.

Fayette county farmers are showing increasing interest in the grading and better methods of marketing their farm products, County Agent W. H. Cahbert says. Good attendance and keen interest have marked recent demonstrations held over the county to show burley growers how to strip and grade their leaf crop.

Manure Yield in Kentucky Worth Millions to Farmers.

Lexington, Ky., Dec.—Kentucky has enough livestock on her farms to yield annually at least 10,000,000 tons of manure worth millions of dollars for building up farm lands, according to soils and crops specialists of the College of Agriculture. In view of the fact that Kentucky is a livestock state, this manure should be a big factor in keeping soils of the state rich. Half of this manure is produced in the winter when stock are on feed. It is at this time of the year that special effort to save the fertility in this material is needed.

"Half the fertilizing value of manure is in the liquid portion which may be easily and cheaply saved by using plenty of bedding. It has been estimated that by this one means alone, Todd county farmers last year saved 2,000 tons of manure more than ordinarily would have been saved. The best farmers in the state now keep manure in stables or feeding sheds until it can be spread on the fields. Instead of throwing it in piles outside where it leaches and heats and loses much of its fertilizing value. A well bedded and tramped stall will keep manure in good condition.

"Many farmers in the state now spread the manure on their farms as fast as it is hauled to the fields. The old practice of throwing the material in small piles to be spread later is expensive and wasteful. Most farmers use a light application to cover as many acres as possible. An application of five tons to the acre has been found to give good results.

"Most of the farm manure in Kentucky is used on tobacco or corn land. This makes it necessary to spread it as fast as it is produced in the winter or hold it until spring before spreading. On level land, and especially where there is a sod, winter spreading can be done without loss. A few farmers make a practice of top dressing young grass and clover with manure. This helps considerably in getting and keeping a stand."

Farm Cow Now Making 25 Cents a Day.

Lexington, Ky., Dec.—Thousands of Kentucky farmers who are keeping a few cows from which to sell cream are facing the necessity of cutting down on rich protein feeds and using only those that are grown on the farm in order to get a fair return from their animals during the coming months, dairymen at the College of Agriculture say. At present prices being paid for butterfat, the average farm cow is returning about 25 cents a day. With such feeds as cottonseed meal and linseed oil meal selling around $3 a hundred pounds and milk feeds and bran ranging around $40 a ton, the farmer cannot feed them and have anything left to pay him for the work he spends on his cows. The best the farmer can do under present conditions is to supplement his roughness of silage and legume hay with grain raised on the farm such as, broken ear corn, shelled corn, corn and cob meal, if this can be crushed, or crushed barley.

Culling To Increase Egg Production Shown in Exhibit.

A sure means of increasing egg production by proper culling is given in an exhibit entitled "Make your poultry pay" shown by the United States Department of Agriculture at the International Livestock Exposition, Chicago, December 2 to 9.

Two pens of live chickens are shown. One lot of 12 hens was not culled, and ate in one year 900 pounds of feed, costing $20.70. The 12 hens laid 100 dozen eggs during the year. Contrasted with this lot is one of 8 hens which were culled, and which laid the same number of eggs but ate only 600 pounds of feed, at a cost of $13.50. The lot of 12 hens that was not culled ate 50 per cent more feed than the lot that was culled and produced no more eggs. The extra cost of feed, however, is but one of the larger costs. Others are the extra labor, extra housing room, and extra capital invested.

To enable the poultryman to cull his hens properly the exhibit gives the points to be looked for when determining a poor layer or a good layer. These points are quickly learned and are means of increasing profits from poultry.

Research Program for Home Economies Work Outlined.

Dr. E. D. Hall, director of scientific work, United States Department of Agriculture, represented Secretary Wallace before the home economies section of the Association of Land-grant Colleges, which held their thirty-sixth annual convention in Washington, D. C., November 20-23. Dr. Hall said in part, speaking of the proposed new bureau of home economies:

"The first thing the Department of Agriculture has to do in the organization of a bureau of home economies is to get that organization approved by Congress, and the bill is now before the committee of the House for consideration. If the change is approved, then the next step, as I see it, is to gather together a committee representing the very best thought of home economies and related lines of work that we can find here in America. This committee would have two matters to consider.

"A program of research work must be considered, because the work of the department as a whole organization must in the future, even more than in the past, be along research lines. Now is the time to very materially strengthen the scope of research work in the department activities and in home economies. The second and more difficult function of the committee will be to select someone to lead the work. A research program depends on the individual who directs and inspires the work. In the final development of home economies in the Department of Agriculture it seems very likely that it will be a bureau which will have the organization and direction of work that will be carried on in a considerable number of other bureaus.

"We must think of home economies work as a thing as big and broad in its scope as the whole Department of Agriculture is. It serves a field as big as the field of the Agriculture Department. It is entitled, when it comes to its own, to the recognition that the service to agriculture has received, and I feel that this recognition will be forthcoming."

Serious injury to a number of the greens in the local soft course near Riverport, N. J., has resulted from the abundance of Japanese beetle larvae, according to reports received by the Bureau of Entomology of the United States Department of Agriculture. The greens offer ideal facilities for the beetles to lay their eggs during the season, and it is apparent that the effect of these heavy egg deposits will be serious, in some cases necessitating the rebuilding of infested greens.

Best Season Here For Taking Farm Inventory.

Lexington, Ky., Dec.—This is the best season of the year to take the farm inventory, according to W. D. Nicholls, head of the farm economies department of the College of Agriculture. The supply of feeds is low, salable crops usually have been marketed by this time and little work and money have been expended on the new year's crop. The four or five hours spent in taking the inventory make up about the most profitable half day of work that the farmer can put in during the year. The inventory should include a list of real estate, livestock, implements and machinery, feed and supplies on hand and all other property used in the interest of the farm business, to each item of which is assigned a proper value.

Few Apple Trees Escape San Jose Scale Damages.

Lexington, Ky., Dec.—San Jose scale, one of the bad fruit tree pests, is just as serious if not worse, in Kentucky apple orchards at the present time as it ever has been, according to A. J. Olney, of the horticulture department of the College of Agriculture. The scale attacks the trunks, limbs, twigs and fruit and often cuts the yield of apples heavily before farmers notice it. Spraying with lime sulphur at this time of the year when the leaves are off the trees is the best way to control the pest. One part of the commercial lime sulphur should be used to eight parts of water.

More than 25,000 farmers adopted the use of self-feeders for hogs in 1921, following demonstrations by extension workers, according to reports to the United States Department of Agriculture.

Demonstrations by extension workers in the methods and importance of spraying fruit trees have resulted in farm orchards being sprayed on over 37,000 farms in 1921, according to reports to the United States Department of Agriculture.

New York City is the most important peach market of the United States, receiving more carloads of peaches than any other market, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture. During the height of the season in 1922 as many as 500 cars were received during one week.

Over 4,000 cars of peaches a week were shipped about the middle of September, 1922, from all producing sections, according to reports of the United States Department of Agriculture.

The San Jose scale has been very destructive this season in southern Illinois and southern Indiana, according to reports received by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Large apple orchards have been infested, and growers must adopt vigorous measures to get it under control. The work in Indiana is being directed by Prof. J. J. Davis, of Purdue University, and in Illinois by W. P. Flint, of the State department of agriculture. The Bureau of Entomology of the United States Department of Agriculture has conferred with State authorities on control measures.

Agricultural experiment stations of the Northwestern States are making cooperative or concerted studies of dry-land and irrigation farming problems, plant breeding, plant disease, insect and fungous pests of orchards and means for their control, control of wheat smut, which presents unusual difficulties in these States, and other regional subjects, according to reports to the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Practically all these stations are investigating the relative importance of sunflower in cropping systems and the value of sunflower silage as stock feed, and several are studying the value of sulphur as a plant nutrient.

"Profitable Pigs Never Stop Growing"—Slogan.

In an exhibit entitled "Pork production," shown by the U. S. Department of Agriculture at the International Live Stock Exposition, Chicago, Dec. 2 to 9, the department gives the essential points for raising swine economically.

Good breeding stock, proper mating, and careful feeding of the brood sows are all important, but a point in hog raising that should receive more attention, because it is often neglected, is the necessity of keeping the young pigs growing continuously from the moment of birth to maturity.

Even before the pigs are weaned they should have access to corn in self-feeders as a supplement to the sow's milk. As soon as they are weaned the pigs should be kept on full feed, either by self-feeder or by hand. Approved types of self-feeders, hayracks, troughs, and waterfountains are shown in the exhibit. Proper feeds and exercise furnished to vigorous pigs of proper type result in hogs of market weight at about 8 months of age.

"The profitable pig is the one that never stops growing from farrowing to market," is a good slogan for every hog raiser.

Commercial production of garden peas for seed in 1922 totaled 46,600,000 pounds, an increase of 75 per cent over the production in 1921, according to the United States Department of Agriculture. The average production for the last five years was 54,000,000 pounds.

Pumpkin seed to the amount of 119,800 pounds was raised commercially on 772 acres in 1922, according to reports reaching the United States Department of Agriculture.

Over 8,000,000 pounds of sweet corn for seed was produced commercially in 1922, which is an increase

BRITAIN TO BUILD TROOP AIRPLANES

London, Dec. 9.—The up-ate and general luxury will be the keynote of the wonderful new air buses now being built for the British army.

No more will British soldiers be conveyed weary journeys in dreary troop trains. Henceforward the aerial transport machine will carry a fully-armed platoon of infantry at the rate of two miles a minute.

The construction of the machines will begin next January. They will be constructed entirely of steel. The fuselage is to be especially roomy. The seats, when not in use, will fold back against the sides of the cabin.

The machines already designed will carry fifty men, with equipment, but those which will follow shortly after will be capable of taking one hundred or even two hundred soldiers. The smaller machines are expected to be in use by the middle of next year.

The craft will be fitted with four 750 horsepower Beardmore engines of the semi-Diesel oil-burning type. These will not only be economical to run but will greatly reduce the risk of fire.

The present troop-carrying machines in use at present are designed for carrying twenty-five men only and consist of four quadrons. The primary use of these monster buses is, of course, for polioke large native areas and quickly quelling insurrections.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA WOULD SPANK PARENTS

Parents of children who engage in "puppy love" escapades, according to Judge Lawrence Jacobs, of the Chicago boys' court, should be spanked along with their erring offspring. "In nearly every case," he says, "you will find paternal indulgence. I think if we had a few public spankings the fashion would suddenly become unpopular."

CAMPAIGN EXPENSES PAID WITH CAKE

The novel method of raising campaign funds by offering angel food cake at bazaars, picnics and similar gatherings was adopted by Mrs. Elizabeth Shroyer, who was Democratic nominee for commissioner of Cook county, which includes Chicago. She was able to raise enough money to travel 5000 miles besides paying for all other election activities.

WOMEN MOB CRITIC

"Women in politics make me sick," remarked Eugene Kominski, New York dry goods merchant, as he observed a crowd of women waiting at the polls on election day. A few moments later, with his face badly bruised and his clothes torn and his collar missing, Kominski was led before a judge to answer charges of disorderly conduct preferred by one of the women voters.

SUPREME COURT JUDGE

Independence of the Judiciary from politics, says Miss Florence Allen, was the chief issue which elected her to the supreme court of Ohio. She is the first woman to receive this honor in any state. Miss Allen is eminently qualified for the new work by her experience as a newspaper writer, teacher, immigration investigator, lawyer, prosecuting attorney and judge of the court of common pleas.

STARS AND STRIPES FIRST

When Mrs. John Rushmore, of New York, displayed a French tricolor on her flagpole to welcome Clemenceau she was promptly informed that a state law prohibits the flying of a foreign flag without the Stars and Stripes beside it. Since she had but one flagpole, she was told she would have to fly Old Glory or none.

HOOTLEGGERS USE ROGUS MONEY

THROWS PHONE AT "CENTRAL"

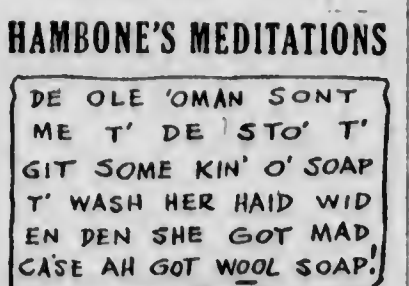

Because he couldn't get "central," Thomas Noel, of Mount Holly, Va., so hopelessly lost his temper that he pulled the phone from the wall, threw it into his car, drove two miles to the operator's home and hurled it thru the glass door. In court he pleaded guilty to disorderly conduct, paid a $25 fine and agreed to repair the door.

CONDEMS WAR PACIFISTS

Gen. Pershing, speaking in New York on Armistice day, declared that there are too many pacifists "running around loose" for the good of the country. "Their propaganda ought to be stopped," he said. "I am sick of this 'war against war' movement. I understand that its sponsors are getting men to pledge that they will not in the future serve in any war. Any man who owes all he has and expeets to be to this country and takes part in such a movement ought to have a radical cure found for him."

LAW RULES OVER SEA

In connection with the case of Raymond Howman, engineer on a merchant marine vessel, who was indicted on charges of defrauding the government, the U. S. supreme court held that the criminal jurisdiction of the United States extends to American citizens on the high seas. To hold otherwise, it was argued, would permit persons outside the three-mile limit to violate the criminal statutes with impunity.

OVERHAUL LARGEST VESSEL

The Majestic, the largest steamship in active service, was taken to the naval drydock at South Boston to be overhauled because that was the only drydock large enough to accommodate the 956-foot liner. Besides having several tons of barnacles removed from its bottom the vessel will receive a coat of non-corrosive paint and be equipped with 16-ton propellers of manganese bronze, which it is believed will increase its speed.

TEST CHILD TO PROVIDENCE

"Let Providence and not the methods of science take our baby out of the world," declared James C. Lehen, of Chicago, who was told that his two-day-old baby would be better off dead. The child was born with neither arms nor legs, although otherwise perfectly normal.

MRS. MCADOO ESCAPES FINE

Mrs. William G. McAdoo, wife of the former secretary of the treasury and daughter of Woodrow Wilson, escaped paying a fine for speeding at Eagle Rock, Cal. Judge Cruzon said: "Not ones have I fined a person who has been in the state less than two months and when I learned Mrs. McAdoo was a recent arrival I did not press the case against her." THOUGHT PLATINUM PIN CHEAP TRINKET

Mrs. W. F. Bevan, of Baltimore, lost a diamond-set platinum bar-pin valued at $12,000. Careful search was made and the police were appealed to but without avail. A year and a half after the loss a telephone message to police headquarters reported that the trinket had been taken to a local jewelry manufacturing concern for appraisal. Through officials of this concern the police soon got in touch with the man who had brought it in. He surrendered it to them, explaining that he had found it in a street car and that his wife, thinking it a cheap pin set with imitation diamonds, had worn it for months as she had gone about her housework. As it had attracted considerable attention, he said, she had decided to have it examined by experts to learn what it was worth.

PROPOSES PROFIT-SHARING

Henry Ford has asked the Interstate commerce commission for authority to introduce among the employees of his railway a profit-sharing system similar to that used in his industrial plants. Employees will buy investment certificates and the money will be invested in the railroad or in outside enterprises. Yearly a portion of the net earnings of the railroad will be distributed to certificate holder. The full investment may be recalled on 30 days notice.

GETS INJUNCTION AGAINST DOCTOR

Miss Maud Wymmer, of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, obtained an injunction against Dr. H. N. Grimm, who she claimed stuck out his tongue and made faces at her whenever he saw her on the street. Dr. Grimm, she says, would run his car close to the curb and honk his siren so loud as to startle her and drive her almost mad.

BEADS ODDLY STRUNG

(By I. D. Claire)

I see where a fellow down east in settling out of a bathtub fell and broke his neck. That settles the bath business for me. Never again will I recklessly endanger my life in a treacherous bathtub. Safety first for me.

If you cannot give all your friends expensive Christmas presents, you can at least give to those who will appreciate them most an added smile, a kindly word or a friendly handshake for which they may be more grateful than for gifts of gold. Try it.

It is my daily task to meet a number of new people, and among these are a few, a very few, whose well ordered courtesy inspires the unhappy reflection that I may never have excuse to meet them again. The quality of friendliness without familiarity, and congeniality without boldness, and especially so with women, is a rare and priceless gift, and one good to meet.

A visitor from California, a former Kentucky newspaper man, tells me that the grape growers of that state are ready to shoulder their guns to fight for the enforcement of the Volstead law. And the reason he said, is that whereas grapes sold for $9.00 the ton before Volstead legislation they are now selling for $120 a ton. Now Fluke, don't go and plant a vineyard.

This cold snap will remind a good many folks of some weather we were having about five years ago at this time. I shall not soon forget how during those long, cold winter nights Arthur Kirk and myself bunked together at the Foster House, and how we never ventured out at night nor very far in the daytime. And still I would not object to living that winter over again.

I finally finished late Sunday night, reading that elongated "streak" of Fluke's in last week's Republican. I put in my spare time reading it through Saturday and Sunday, and finally I got so absorbed in it that I just dropped everything and read it straight on to the end.

Buddy McPhig says he was terribly disappointed with President Harding's announcement that prohibition enforcement was bordering on a national scandal after Commissioner Haynes had been assuring the country every day that his department was a flaming success.

If I don't go broke in the meantime, I shall make a very brief visit to the old burg during the holidays, and if Jim Carter, Dills Ward, Bill Keane, Frank Wallace, Miles Crowder, Bud Stevens or any other of my old friends want to leave me some smoking at the Republican office, they will please leave it with Duke, for if Fluke gets his claws on it it will be goodnight for me.

URGE LIMIT IN AIR SUBMARINE CRAFT

Washington, Dec. 13.—A request that President Harding seek to broaden the scope of the naval limitation agreement, so as to include a limitation on construction of smaller types of war vessels and on military and naval air craft, is included in the annual naval bill as reported today by the House Appropriations Committee.

Under the bill as brought into the House the President would be asked to open negotiations with Great Britain, France, Italy, and Japan, for an agreement which would limit future building of all surface and submersible types of war craft having a tonnage of 10,000 or less and on all classes of army and navy air craft.

In its report the committee pointed out that the arms conference did not limit the number of types of smaller war vessels and added that information had reached Congress "that already large programmes are planned of vessels up to the maximum size permitted under the agreement and that new and larger types of sub-surface craft have begun to put in an appearance."

Seek to Check Competition.

"In other words" the report continued, "competition is on again in the single direction to which the unratified agreement does not extend, and if it be allowed to go on unchecked the purse strings again must be relaxed and this Government, like all others, will be constrained to launch upon a new programme to the extent necessary to keep up at least abreast of any of the other Powers."

The committee prefaced its recommendations by a review of the accomplishments of the Washington conference, declaring an "enormous burden" of expenditure already had been removed by the stopping of work on the larger types of warships and that much good had resulted from the limitations placed upon gun calibre and other building.

"The splendid achievements of that conference," the report continued, "need not be recited here. Although the agreement entered into has not been ratified by all the participating governments, America is looking forward to that end."

"The conference did not, however, limit the number or types of vessels coming up to or under the 10,000-ton and eight-gun limits, either in the way of surface or sub-surface craft, nor did it impose any limitation whatever on aircraft."

"It is the committee's information that already large programmes are planned of vessels up to the maximum size permitted under the agreement and that new and larger types of sub-surface craft have begun to put in an appearance. In other words, competition is on again in the single direction to which the unratified agreement does not extend."

NEW BANK IN DUNDEE IS NOW IN OPERATION

The new Bank in Dundee, known as the Bank of Dundee, opened its doors, and books for business Tuesday, December 12. Reports are that considerable business is being transacted by the new institution and that prospects are flattering for future success.

The articles of incorporation were originally drafted with the institution bearing the name of "Bank of Lough Flyer" but it became necessary to change, due to the fact that another bank in the State bore that name.

Mrs. A. M. Herndon, of Russellville, and Miss Adah Chandler, of Louisville, will arrive in Hartford within the next few days to be the guests of their sister, Mrs. G. M. Crowe, and Judge Crowe, for several days.

TOBACCO POOL MAKES SPLENDID PROGRESS

More progress has been made in the development of the various departments of the Dark Tobacco Grower's Co-operative Association during the last two weeks than was ever hoped for by the most optimistic of its organizers.

Local counsel has been appointed for the community centers of the district; warehouses have been purchased or leased in all towns of any size from Paducah on the Ohio to Hartsville on the Cumberland. The War Finance Corporation has agreed to loan the Association $7,500,000; grades have been established, and preparations are being made to receive tobacco.

Due to the fact that practically none of the warehouses or factories in the district are equipped with a sufficient amount of tobacco handling devices, the date for receiving members' crops can not be set at this time. R. E. Cooper, Director of Warehouses, has promised, however, that the receiving stations will open as soon as possible.

From Clarksville, Tenn., Claude Cock, vice president of the Association, reports a clear path for the efficient operation of the pool.

"We are all working here," Mr. Cock said last night, "and I believe that we will set a record by the manner in which we handle our members' crops. We are not ready to open the receiving stations yet because of the lack of equipment."

When the office force which is headed by S. S. Still, secretary, perfects the system by which the Association tobacco will be handled, word will be sent to the managers of all of the warehouses. Then the warehouse book-keepers will be called into Hopkinsville for instruction in their duties. It is important to impress the managers with the fact that the book-keepers will work under the supervision of the main office, Mr. Still said.

The new headquarters of the Association will be occupied next week by the entire force. Expenses will be reduced by the concentration of the workers and a more efficient organization will result. In this respect the Dark Association already surpasses the Burley pool because the office in Lexington are housed in several buildings.

Joseph Passonneau, Manager of the Field Service Division, left tonight for Washington, D. C., where he will attend the inter-co-operative conference. At this conference the work of the Dark Tobacco Association will be outlined to the heads of other co-operatives. It is believed that our progress will compare favorably with that of any other Association.

Before he left Hopkinsville, Mr. Passonneau announced that the Field Service Division would hold a series of grading demonstrations during the three weeks following December 18. It is important that all members attend one or more of these exhibitions in order that the Association tobacco may be properly classified when it is delivered to the warehouses.

Before the warehouses may be opened for tobacco the ten war-house corporations set up by Aaron Sapiro, marketing expert, must be incorporated. This work is being done by Abe D. Waldner, Mr. Sapiro's assistant.

The various corporations comprise the following counties:

1. The Hopkinsville District, including Christian, Muhlenberg, Lyon, Caldwell, West Section of Logan and Todd Counties.
2. The Paducah District, including Ballard, McCracken, Marshall and Livingston Counties.
3. The Mayfield District, including Graves, Fulton, Hickman, and Carlisle Counties.
4. The Murray District, including Callaway and Trigg Counties.
5. The Springfield District, including Robertson, Davidson and Sumner Counties and Councils of the Tullahoma District, Tenn.
6. The Clarksville District, including Montgomery, Chenham, Dickson, Houston, Stewart, Humphries, Henry, Weakley and Obion Counties, Tennessee.
7. The Henderson District, including Henderson, Union, Crittenden, Hopkins and Webster Counties.
8. The Bowling Green District, including Butler, Warren, Shropshire, Eastern Section of Logan, Allen, Barren, Edmonson, Grayson, Monroe, Taylor and adjoining Counties, Kentucky.
9. The Gallatin District, including Jackson, Macon, Smith and Triondale Counties, and the Western Section of Sumner County, Tennessee.
10. The Owensboro District, including Ohio, McLenn, Breckenridge, Hancock and Daviess Counties, Kentucky and Spencer County Ind.
